The Investment: $80 / month

The Fine Print: While you're on my hosting plan, I cover all of your license renewals. If you're not on my plan or choose to leave at anytime, license renewals are your responsibility after the timeline outlined in our initial contract has passed. Support tasks cover technical support, content editing and design changes. You can give me a list of things you need changed, and I'll work away at that list until your monthly plan time is reached. After your time is reached, the work is either completed at my standard billable rate or picked back up the following month, whichever you prefer. Unused task support time does not accrue or roll-over to subsequent months. Each plan runs on an automatically renewing subscription basis. You are free to cancel or upgrade/downgrade. These plans do not include email or domains, which are usually managed separately and simply on your own. If you have further questions, please email me. Custom plans available if you think you'll need more ongoing, complex support.
